What are the defects?

The sealing washers used in the rear brake lines may not meet manufacturing specifications allowing air to enter the rear brake system. As a result, it could lead to a loss of braking performance.

What are the hazards?

A loss in braking performance could increase the risk of an accident causing serious injury or death to the rider and/or passenger and other road users.

What should consumers do?

Owners of affected motorcycles will be contacted in writing by Mojo Motorcycles. Owners can also contact their preferred Authorised CFMOTO Service Centre, to have the effected components replaced, free of charge.
